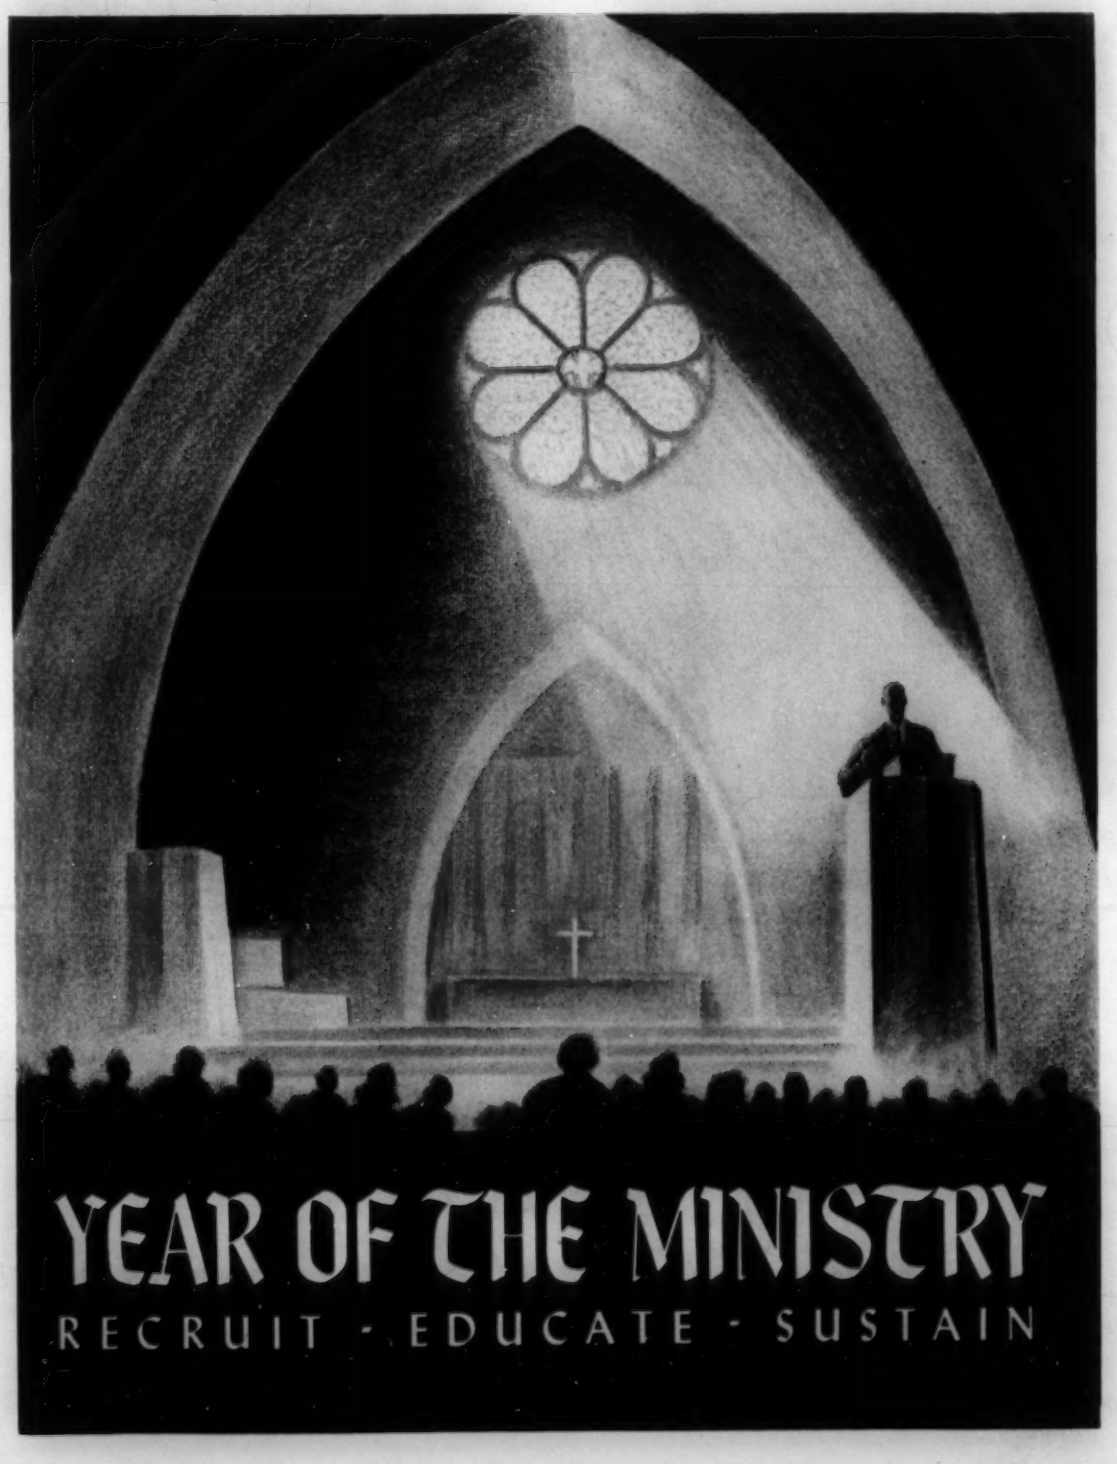
Turner Convention Program Will Emphasize . . .



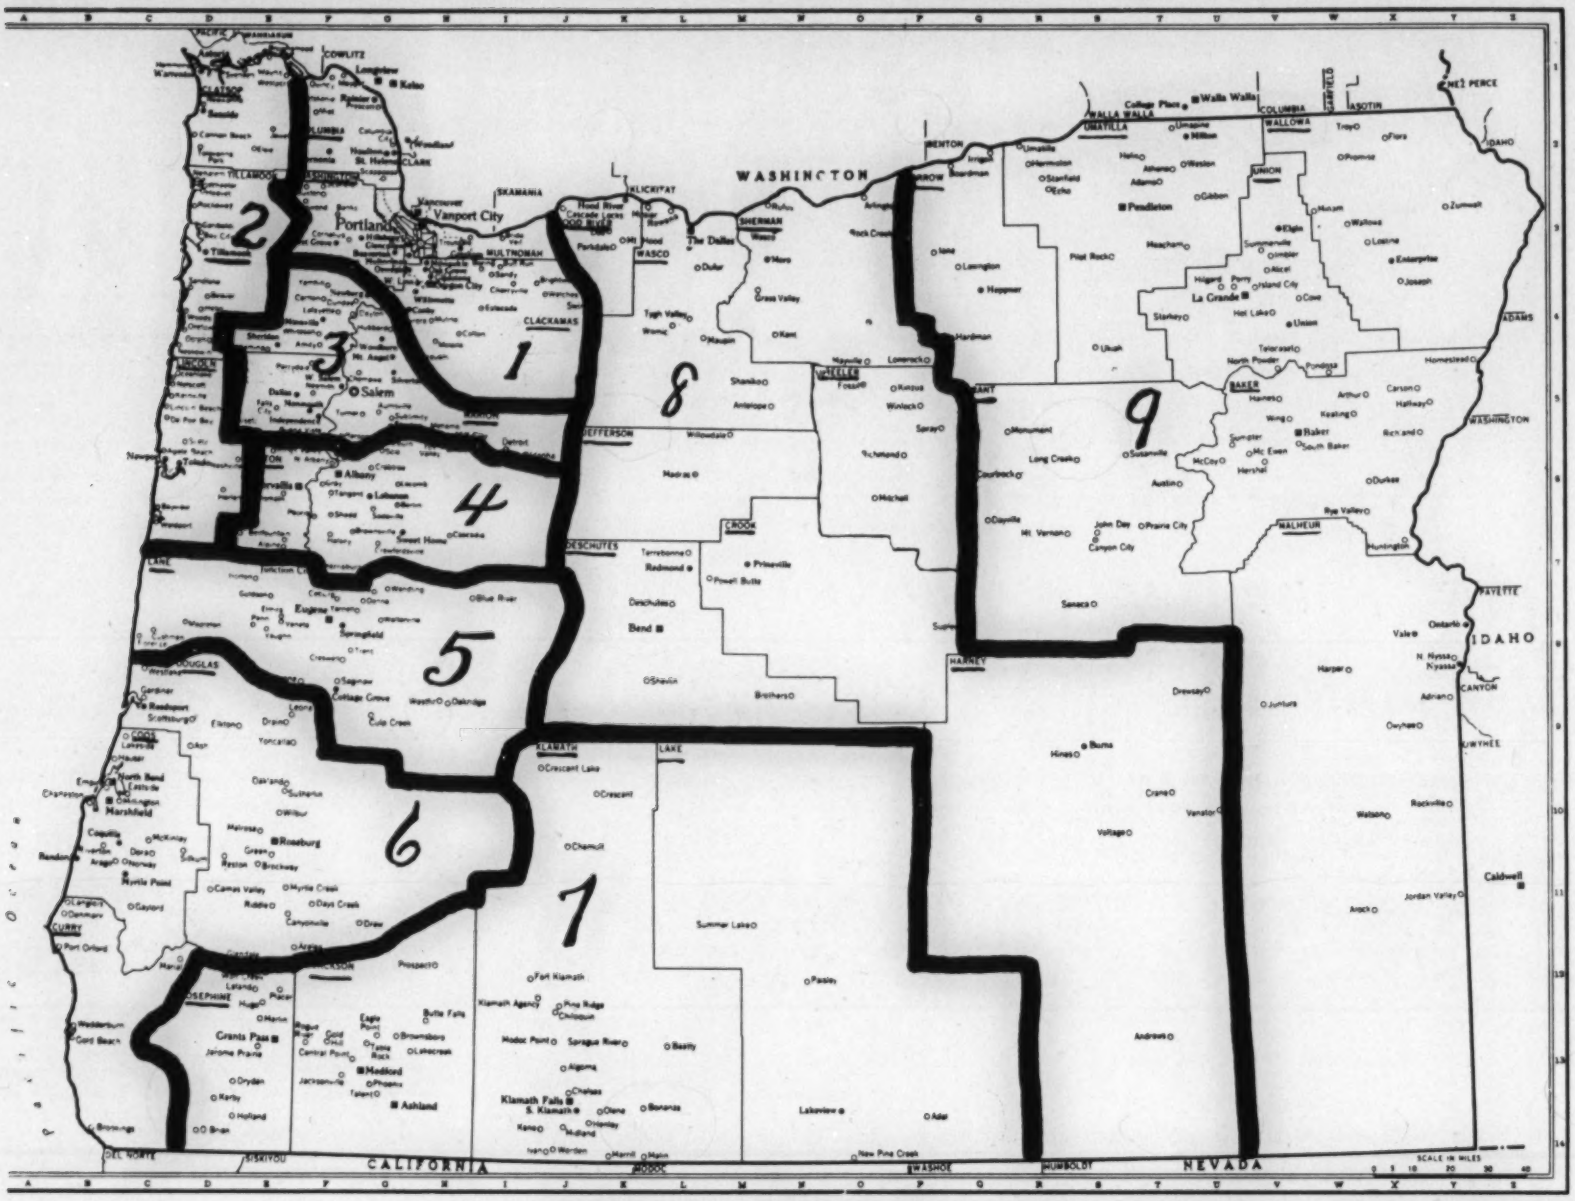
SPECIAL EVENTS FEATURE COMING STATE CONVENTION

Plans for the annual convention of Oregon Christian Churches, June 26 - July 1, are moving forward; the detailed program appears on pages 6 and 7. Martin T. Clark, well known to Oregon churches, will present the missionary appeal from his years of experience in mission work in several world areas. He is a graduate of NCC and has served Oregon churches as pastor before becoming a direct-support missionary to Japan and the Philippines.

William D. Hall is director of general church program for the department of missionary education of the United Christian Missionary Society and served seven years as missionary in India. While in India he was chairman of the rural development of the mission and concentrated his efforts in evangelism among men in the Bilaspur and Mungeli areas.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Jewett, ministers at Baker, Oregon, for nine years will conduct the morning devotional period each day in the Tabernacle.

Among special dinner meetings announced in the program are these: Ministers on Wednesday; NCC, Friday evening; Youth, Saturday; and Men, Saturday. There is always a cheerful fellowship in the dining hall, around the community camp stoves, at the book stands and elsewhere about the grounds where two or three may be gathered together.



MAP OF PROPOSED NEW DISTRICTS FOR OREGON

For some time it has been suggested we should re-district our state and each organization working by districts use the same names and areas. In January Mr. Addleman called a representative group together. This included Mrs. Burke representing the Christian Women's Fellowship, Ed Dewees the 90 and 9 Men's Brotherhood, Miss Loma Mae Jones the educational work including the state youth program; furthermore, since some churches are working in the inter-denominational program of Christian Endeavor, Miss Dorothy Howes sat in on the meeting. We agreed on dividing the state into nine districts; and we agreed to designate the districts by number rather than names as at present. We further agreed that it may be necessary for some organizations to work by sub-districts at times, or it may be necessary for some to combine certain districts into areas, or zones.

This plan will avoid the confusion we have now where each organization uses a different area for a district and uses a different name to designate it. This plan will be presented to our State Convention for approval.

Register Now — Help Your Church Win the Trophy

Your registration for Turner Convention, together with the dollar sent in with it, will help your church to win one of the beautiful trophies to be awarded by the registration committee. The trophy was pictured in last month's Oregon Christian; there will be three of them as follows:

One to the church turning in the most paid registrations to and including Saturday, June 30.

One to the church of under 200 members which registers the highest percentage of its membership by Saturday night, June 30.

One to the church of over 200 members which registers the highest percentage of its membership by Saturday night, June 30.

Every church should have a "registrar" appointed, but if not, registrations may be sent in directly to Mrs. John Marsh, state registrar, 4729 S. E. 73 Ave., Portland 6, Oregon. It is hoped and anticipated that the registration fees will cover the cost of the convention.

NORTHWEST CHRISTIAN COLLEGE

—By Ross J. Griffeth

Ground-breaking ceremonies were held on May 5 to begin construction of the Northwest Christian College Library. The first spade work was done by Hazel Oliver, Librarian. Others of the N.C.C. family who moved a bit of ground were: E. M. Eldridge, Field Representative; William Siefke, Dean of Men; Mary Stevens Cook, Dean of Women, Emeritus; Francis L. Cook, veteran and pioneer minister and evangelist.

In order to make the best use of available land, plans for the Library have been enlarged. The new estimate of cost is $277,000. About half of this amount was on hand when construction began.

Every effort will be made to secure funds to keep construction going ahead without interruption until the project is completed. But if funds are not available, work will be halted so as not to incur any debt.

Student Preview for high school juniors and seniors was held on campus May 4 and 5. Three hundred twenty-six students and advisers registered at the College. One car load came from Conrad, Montana, a journey of a thousand miles one way.

The high school students gained a much better understanding of the work which is being done at Northwest Christian College, and it is certain that many will be helped to make their decision to choose a Christian college education after high school days.

Northwest Christian College Day in the churches again proved to be a significant success. It is never possible to tell exactly how much the receipts are immediately from such an effort, but it is certain that the long range results are exceptionally important.

The special offerings which are taken for the College make it possible for the College to continue operating at a high level of academic excellence without incurring debt.

The calendar for the Commencement season was as follows: Senior Chapel — 3 P.M., May 31; Kellems Orations — 8 P.M., May 31; Baccalaureate Service — 8 P.M., June 2; Sacred Music Concert — 8 P.M., June 3; Board of Trustees Meeting — 9 A. M., June 4; Alumni Banquet and Business Meeting — 5 P.M., June 4; Commencement Service — 8 P.M., June 4.

President and Mrs. Griffeth and Dean and Mrs. Siefke are scheduled to leave Eugene by plane on June 12 for New York and to sail from New York for Rotterdam on June 14, on the Holland-American Line. Tentatively they are scheduled to make the return flight from London to New York on August 29. Between these dates they will visit many places in Europe, the Near and Middle East.

ADDING UP THE ACTIVITIES OF ADDLEMAN

This report covers the period from April 12 through May 14. The purpose of this report each month is to keep the readers of the Oregon Christian informed about the growing state program. The report covers many of the items which come under the work of administration, field program, and service.

The period opened with a meeting of the Oregon Christian Student Foundation Finance Committee meeting in Corvallis, a meeting on the Cedar Hills building project, the Northwest Regional DSF Conference at Menucha, a meeting of the Student Foundation with Bob Bates from the National Office, and attendance at the Christian House program at Corvallis.

I attended a meeting of the Permanent Fund Loan Committee, was a guest at the office secretaries' fellowship of Portland, attended the Board of Directors meeting of the Portland Council of Churches, attended a meeting of the Oregon Council of Churches Evangelism Committee. Supplied the pulpit for both services at Ontario.

Most of the time from April 23 through May 6 was spent in the series of Eight District Conventions. During this time I preached at the Englewood Church and visited a service at the Hood River Church. Attended a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Portland Council of Churches and a meeting of the Oregon Christian Student Foundation in Eugene.

I attended and shared in the program of the Dedication of the new Education Building at First Church Portland. Attended a meeting in Eugene of the representatives of the agencies and causes reporting to the State Convention. While there I attended a meeting of the Oregon Christian Study Committee. Eleven days were spent in the office with eight office conferences.

William Baird, Jr., to Be Professor at College of the Bible

Lexington, Kentucky, April 30: President R. B. Montgomery today announced the appointment of Dr. William Robb Baird, Jr., as professor of New Testament at The College of the Bible, Lexington, Ky.

Dr. Baird is to begin his work in Lexington on August 1. He comes to The College of the Bible after four years of service in the seminary of Phillips University, Enid, Okla. At Phillips he has been associate professor of New Testament and church history.

At The College of the Bible Dr. Baird succeeds Dr. Daniel C. Troxel, who has retired. Dr. and Mrs. Troxel will continue to make their home in Lexington.

Dr. Baird is a son of William R. Baird, minister of First Christian Church of Modesto, Calif. Dr. Baird was born in California and attended college on the West Coast. He earned a B. Th. at Northwest Christian College, a B.A. at University of Oregon, and at Yale he earned B.D., M.A., and Ph.D. degrees. While a student at Oregon he was elected to Phi Beta Kappa and was concert master of the University Symphony.

At Yale he won academic honors, including the Tew Prize and the Two Brothers Fellowship. Also during his study at Yale he was chosen to work as a research assistant in the New Testament department of the Divinity School.

Dr. Baird has been minister of churches at Brownsville and Fall Creek in Oregon and at Yalesville in Connecticut. He is a member of the National Association of Biblical Instructors, Society of Biblical Literature and Exegesis, Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia and is listed in Who's Who in American Education.

Singer Available

Jack Naff, tenor soloist, is now available for sacred concerts in the churches of central and western Oregon. Popular in the Northwest for his work as song evangelist and his work in Eugene radio religious programs, he offers something different for evening services. He may be contacted at 75 N. Jackson St., Eugene, Oregon.

Churches are urged to pay all or part of expenses of teachers who attend

Laboratory Training School at Salem, July 8-14

—By Mrs. Merritt Parks

The Church must teach! IF the Church is to be a vital force in these times it must be concerned that the message of Jesus Christ be heard and understood and applied. The ANNUAL LABORATORY TRAINING SCHOOL at Salem First Christian Church, July 8-14, will provide an opportunity to observe and assist teachers trained in Christian Education as they use methods that help guide children in Christian growth at their own age level. Opportunities to assist in planning sessions, guiding activities, and evaluating results help student teachers grow in their understanding of boys and girls and the goals of Christian Education.

The staff is as follows: supervisor, Mrs. Oakley Rhay, Eugene; director, Loma Mae Jones, Portland; local director, Mrs. Ray Heckart, Salem; nursery teacher, Mrs. Walter Naff, Coquille; kindergarten teacher, Mrs. Steve Woodson, Eugene; primary teacher, Mrs. R. W. Moshier, Eugene; junior teacher, Mrs. Charles Houston, Redmond.

The nursery department at Lab School is relatively new, and teachers of two- and three-year-olds are urged to take advantage of the training that is available to help meet the needs of this age group in the church school.

Fees: Registration before June 22, $5.00; after June 22, $7.50. Send all registrations to Mrs. Heckart, c/o First Christian Church, Salem. Teachers should plan to arrive by 4 p.m. Sunday, July 8.

All student teachers and staff members share in a real time of fellowship each day at noon lunch, served at the church for a nominal fee. Lodging and breakfast will be furnished without cost and teachers will be on their own for the evening meal.

The library will have reference books for study and others for sale and browsing—age-level books, leadership courses, devotionals, story books.

In this "Year of Christian Education" churches are encouraged and urged to pay all or at least part of the expenses of teachers.

Richard Eugene Osburn Is Ordained in Lebanon Church

Sunday night, May 6, Richard Eugene Osburn was ordained to the Christian ministry by the First Christian Church of Lebanon. Participating in the service were Dr. Ross J. NINETY AND NINE MEN'S BROTHERHOOD

—By Elmer C. Walters

Turn out for Turner!

The annual call is issued to all men who can to "turn out for Turner". We need the inspiration and fellowship of this gathering of "Christians only", and we will be looking forward to the special events in the convention program in which we share. First of these will be the Men's Missionary Forum on Thursday afternoon at the time of the business meeting of the Christian Women's Fellowship. With Martin Clark of Japan and William Hall of India, guest missionary speakers of the convention, as our resource men, we should certainly get a "man's eye view" of the great needs and challenges of the "uttermost part of the earth".

On Saturday afternoon our president, "Bob" Pfeiffer, will be presiding over the general session of the convention. We will experience another great hour of power in the prayer meeting in the rustic chapel, and we shall sing, eat, give, and receive at the banquet session (ladies as guests). David Kullowatz, minister at Gladstone, will be toastmaster and Gene Robinson of La Grande will provide the message of the hour. A great evening session of the convention will follow with Ting R. Champie of Wichita, Kansas, bringing his final convention address. On Sunday morning the McKenzie District men are providing the teacher for a great men's Bible class. William Hall will speak at the morning worship service and Dean John McCaw of the Drake University Divinity School will bring the closing convention address in the afternoon. Make plans NOW to attend as many convention events as possible.

New Camp in Myrtle District

The Ninety and Nine Men of the Myrtle District have arranged for a joint boys' camp and girls' camp to be held at Camp McKinley (McKinley Route, Coquille) July 1 to July 7. Wallace Jones, minister of the Myrtle Point church, will serve as camp dean and Clyde Blakely, minister of the North Bend church, will be director of the boys' section. Further plans for the camp were scheduled in consultation with Ed Dewees at the district rally at Myrtle Point on May 21.

In the earlier joint boys' camp and girls' camp at Turner, June 17-23, Joe Wagnon of Coburg will direct the boys' section and Mrs. Wagnon the girls' section. Ray Jones of Holley has tentatively accepted the assignment of camp dean. It will be "last call" for this camp when this news item is read; so get those early campers ready for their big week of the summer!

The 8th annual Turner girls' camp will be held July 15-21 with Mrs. I. M. Nelson of Silverton as the director. Warren Sechler, Halsey minister, will serve as dean for this camp.

The 22nd Anniversary Boys' Camp at Turner will be held the following week with I. M. Nelson, Silverton minister, as the director and with Lynnton Elwell, minister of Eugene Westside Church, as the dean. In the Crescent Lake Boys' Camp, which meets simultaneously with the Wi-Ne-Ma Boys' Camp from July 29 to Aug. 4, Ivan Correll, minister of the Albany Eastside church, will be the director. Ase Rice, minister at Culver, will again serve as the dean of that camp.. Willie White will direct the Wi-Ne-Ma Boys' Camp; the dean is to be announced later as will be the names of other personnel for the succeeding camps. Please send a card to Ed Dewees, P. O. Box 231, Coburg, Oregon, for camp folders and posters if you have not received yours or if you are in need of more.

On Decoration Day men of the Ninety and Nine met at Turner Lodge in Turner and helped on the necessary repairs of the building.

Bob Pfeiffer, State Ninety and Nine President attended the Yamhill district meeting at McMinnville on May 28th. Ed Dewees attended the St. John's Father & Son Banquet of the North West District on May 28 and Harry Vetter the South Willamette meeting at Scio. This arrangement enabled some of the state officers to be at each of the meetings and give a report to the districts of the last meeting and plans for the summer program.

Central Oregon reports three well-attended meetings so far this year: Deacon and Elders' School at Powell Butte, Feb. 6; Father and Sons' Banquet at Madras, Mar. 15; and annual election, at Culver, April 17. At the Culver meeting $20 was voted toward the reroofing of Swander Lodge.

Many other donations from other Districts toward this cause of repairing the buildings and helping with the improving of our grounds at Turner should be of prime interest to all. This is a central meeting place outdoors, large enough to accommodate the membership of the churches of the whole state.

NEWS OF THE CHRISTIAN HOUSES

LAWRENCE PORTER MINISTER TO STUDENTS CORVALLIS CHRISTIAN HOUSE

Corvallis Christian House held an open house during Mother's Week-end at Oregon State College. Refreshments were served and everyone appreciated the visits of the mothers.

The Senior Banquet was held in McLean Hall at Corvallis Christian House. Elby Boosinger, minister of the First Christian Church of Forest Grove, brought the message. Marjorie Miller (Mallory Avenue, Portland), vice president of the student fellowship, was mistress of ceremonies in the absence of Lyle Read, president (Corvallis), who was ill. Nancy and Jim Ferris (Dallas), Lorraine Burrill (Newberg), and Ray Adsit (Amity) were in charge of food; Pat Wahl (Newberg) in charge of decorations; and Judy Crowell (Forest Grove) and Ramona Hooker (Baker) in charge of program. Larry Chamberlain (Sheridan) led the group singing and special music. Pat Wells (Vernonia) gave the closing devotions. Lawrence Porter presented Bibles to the graduates.

Recently Dr. Ray S. Hewitt and Dr. Edward Mitchell, instructors of English at Oregon State College, held a panel discussion for the single students on the subject: Does Literature Tend to Corrupt Morals? The married students under the leadership of Don Tibbits, who is working for a doctorate in biology, held a panel discussion on science and religion.

DULCINA ELLIOTT REPORTS FROM EUGENE CHRISTIAN HOUSE

A series of big events always fills spring-term calendar at the Eugene Christian House. The talent show "Cellar Cafe" on May 4 with Dick Fishback of Burns as general chairman was a real success and provided a good clean evening's entertainment for family groups as well as for students. Proceeds are earmarked for summer conferences and projects with help to Walter York, who goes to the Work Camp at East Kilbride, Scotland, and to Nell Carlson, who goes to the work camp at Flanner House, Indianapolis. Chairmen who assisted the general chairmen were Nancy Perry, Jim Wear, Alice Cashman, Louise Robinson, Carl Fleshman, Jim Oglesby, Don Smith, and Martha Crumroy. Master of Ceremonies was Benny Boling.

The Spring Retreat was held at Harmony Lodge, Nelscott, May 11-13, with Wayne Greene of Salem First Christian as guest speaker and Dr. Jessie Smith of the University School of Business as resource leader. The subject of discussion and planning was Outreach. The theme song was "Sow the Seed Beside All Waters". Jean Miller was general chairman, assisted by Erv Royer, Muriel Horton, Louise Robinson, and Wally York.

The annual Mothers' Breakfast was Sunday morning, May 20, during Junior Weekend at the University. Nell Carlson was general chairman. Janice Milton and Roger Weaver were in charge of program; Jeanette Siddall, tickets; Gladys Jongeling, programs; Glenn McKerrow, arrangements.

THE CHRISTIAN MAKES A WILL

Much thought has been given to what happens to one's property after death. As a result the Council of Agencies of the Disciples of Christ has published a little booklet on "The Christian Makes a Will." The purpose of this booklet is not only for people of great wealth, but for the average Christian who can project his witness on long after his death. In our average congregations across the state there are persons who might desire to share a portion of their small estate with Christian causes. A will is the answer.

The State Office has a supply of these booklets and will be glad to mail them to interested persons, or better yet Mr. Addleman will be glad to call and share the contents of the book in a special conference. We also have received the new audio-visual strip film, "Over the Wall." This film tells the story of the importance of how far we see when we make our will. We suggest the churches make use of this film.

Chas. H. Addleman

Oregon Christian Women's Fellowship

—By Edna L. Burke

This missionary year is rapidly drawing to a close; so it seems that all of us are going to work hard to reach our annual goals of increased membership, offering, books read, and World Call subscriptions. So far the record is very good but we need to be on our toes these last few weeks.

The women's session of the State Convention will be held this year on the afternoon of June 28 beginning at 1:30. Mr. Wm. Hall, former missionary to India, is to be our speaker for the service in the tabernacle and also for the vesper service at 5:00 o'clock in the Turner church. Mr. Hall is one of the most interesting speakers it has been my privilege to hear for a long time. His messages are timely, packed with down-to-earth information and inspiration. It is hoped that many will be present to hear him and the other fine messages throughout the Convention, which opens Tuesday night, June 26, and closes on Sunday afternoon July 1.

A special feature of our meeting on Thursday afternoon will be the dedication service for the Love Gifts for the training of missionary candidates for the work both at home and abroad. Each organization will be represented by some one woman, who will present the offering from her group as a whole. The boxes are to be left at home to be used again next year.

★ ★ ★

Miss Ruth Kinney, Living Link missionary of the Forest Grove church, is on her way home after five years of service in India. Miss Kinney is a graduate of Northwest Christian College and has taken advanced training in Kennedy School of Mission at Yale University, as well as receiving practical training for secretarial work at the Missions Building in Indianapolis.

★ ★ ★

Miss Betty Myers, missionary candidate under the United Christian Missionary Society, graduate of Northwest Christian College, will be serving during the summer at All Peoples Church and Community Center in Los Angeles, one of our Home Missions institutions. This fall she will begin specialized training for service in the Belgian Congo as a teacher, a year earler than she had anticipated. This past year Betty has taught in a public school near South Bend, Washington, and had planned to teach this coming year in Longview, Washington, but because of the desperate need of more workers in the Belgian Congo field, her plans were changed.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Cliff Weare, a prominent doctor of Burns, Oregon, and his wife, the former Phyllis Bower, graduate nurse, will begin their preparation this fall for service in the Belgian Congo. Dr. Weare is a well-qualified physician, but needs training in tropical medicine; so he will go to Yale University and then they will both attend Butler University for further training, before going to the field. Phyllis received her degree from N.C.C. in 1950. We rejoice that these three fine dedicated young people will be representing us out there. The people of Oregon can well be proud of the missionaries who have gone from our state to serve in Christ's work across the sea.

★ ★ ★

Our hearts go out in sympathy to Mrs. Mary Herr of the Silverton church, whose husband passed away recently. Mrs. Herr has served faithfully these past two years on the CWF state board as secretary of district number 2.

OREGON CHRISTIAN MISSIONARY CONVENTION IS PARENT TO A GROWING FAMILY

A. W. Mortensen, chairman of the Stewardship Commission, points out that the Oregon Christian Missionary Convention is parent to a growing family of "children." They are Eastside Christian Church, Albany; Allison Park Christian Church, Eugene; Cedar Hills Christian Church, Portland (Beaverton); and Westside Christian Church, Roseburg. "These growing youngsters," he says, "are dependent on Oregon Christian Missionary Convention assistance while they are reaching maturity and becoming trained to fill their parents' shoes".
